Glossary & Investment Option Disclosures

3-Year Risk Rating	An annualized measure of a fund's downside volatility over a three-year period. Morningstar Risk Rating is derived directly from Morningstar Risk, which is an assessment of the variations in a fund's monthly returns, with an emphasis on downside variations, in comparison to similar funds. In each Morningstar Category, the top 10% of investments earn a High rating, the next 22.5% Above Average, the middle 35% Average, the next 22.5% Below Average, and the bottom 10% Low. Investments with less than three years of performance history are not rated.
Fixed	Stability of principal is the primary objective of this investment option. The fixed account guarantees a minimum rate of interest for the life of an annuity contract, but may credit a higher interest rate from time to time. Interest is credited to the principal and the investment increases through compound interest to create a book value amount to the participant. Amounts allocated to the fixed account are held in funds offered through an insurance company's general account or separate account. Please consult your plan sponsor on specific provisions of your stable value fund.

All Glossary terms are sourced from Morningstar, Inc., except "Fixed" and/or "Stable Value" when shown.

Funds may impose redemption fees and/or transfer restrictions, if assets are held for less than the published holding period. For more information, see the fund's prospectus and/or disclosure documents.

A Few Words About Risk:

As with all investments, the Fund involves risks including inflation risk and credit risk. Inflation risk is the possibility that dollars invested in the Fund will not maintain the same purchasing power in the future. Credit risk is the possibility that a bond issuer or stable value contract provider may be unable to make principal, interest, or other payments on time, or at all. The ability of the Fund to make book value payments is also subject to the availability and terms of the Fund's stable value contracts.

The portfolio risk management process includes an effort to monitor and manage risk, but does not imply low risk.

INVESTMENT TERMS

Book Value: For a stable value investment, book value may be defined generally as the value of deposits, plus accumulated interest, minus withdrawals. Unlike market value, book value is not subject to fluctuations as a result of daily market movements.

Credit Rating: Portfolios are not rated by an independent ratings agency. The credit ratings presented are obtained from the investment advisers of such portfolios or funds or, in the case of GSAM-managed portfolios or funds, are calculated by GSAM based upon the credit quality ratings of the underlying securities from one or more of the three major rating agencies, Standard & Poor's, Moody's, and Fitch, in accordance with rules outlined in the portfolio's investment guidelines. Securities that are not rated by any of the three major rating agencies are reflected as such in the credit quality allocation and are excluded from the average portfolio credit quality calculation. For illustrative purposes, GSAM converts all ratings to the equivalent S&P rating when reporting the credit quality allocation. Ratings and portfolio credit quality may change over time. Unrated securities do not necessarily indicate low quality, and for such securities the investment adviser will evaluate the credit quality. Credit ratings are measured on a scale that generally ranges from AAA (highest) to D (lowest).

Duration: Duration is a measure of the estimated price sensitivity of an investment to changes in interest rates.

Fixed Income Securities: Investments in debt obligations of an issuer that pay a fixed or floating rate of return for a specified period of time.

Market-to-Book Ratio: The ratio of the market value of the assets of the Fund to the book value of the Fund. The value of the Fund's stable value contracts are reported by the Fund on a book value basis, while the market value of the assets underlying the contracts will vary with market factors such as changes in interest rates and credit conditions. The stable value contracts are designed to provide for the payment of participant initiated withdrawals made in accordance with the terms of the stable value contracts at book value whether the market value of the contract's underlying assets is greater or less than the contract's book value.

Separate Account: The Fund is a separate account specifically designed and managed for the Plan participants. The investment contracts in the Fund are negotiated to accommodate the deposit and withdrawal needs of Plan participants investing in the Fund.

Spot Yield: Dollar-weighted average crediting rate of all investments in the Fund.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Stable value contracts held in the Fund are issued by banks, insurance companies and other financial institutions and the issuer's obligations under each contract are backed solely by the issuer. Units in the Fund and Fund investments are not backed by the Investment Advisor or any of its affiliates, the plan sponsor, the plan trustee or the plan recordkeeper. The Fund is not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency. Although the Fund's objectives include preservation of principal, there can be no assurance that this objective will be met and it is possible to lose money by investing in the Fund. The Fund, among other risks, is subject to conditions that impact the financial markets, which could impact principal stability and the Fund's ability to achieve its objectives.

Stable value contracts, including wrap contracts, are designed to permit participant withdrawals at book value relating to activities such as investment option transfers, retirement withdrawals and in-service withdrawals in accordance with the terms of a retirement plan. However, withdrawals that result from certain actions initiated by the plan sponsor and certain other events specified in such contracts, including but not limited to bankruptcy filings, partial or complete plan or fund terminations, layoffs, early retirement programs, employer restructurings or corporate mergers or divestitures, changes in laws, accounting procedures or regulatory changes, and changes to the plan or its administration may be paid at market value, which could be less than book value depending on the performance of the assets underlying the Fund's stable value contracts. The obligations of stable value contract issuers are subject to their ongoing creditworthiness and the terms of the contracts, which may include limitations on the issuer's obligations, for example where there is an event of default or other events specified in such contracts which permit the contract issuer to terminate the contract and pursuant to which the Fund would have the market value of the assets underlying the contract as of the date of termination. In addition, a default or impairment with respect to an underlying investment may result in a reduction to the contract's book value that results in a loss.

Portfolio holdings and/or allocations shown above are as of the date indicated and may not be representative of future investments. Future investments may or may not be profitable.

For stable value portfolios, Cash Equivalents generally include cash, the portfolio's STIF vehicle, and other highly liquid investments with a maturity of one year or less that are readily convertible to a known amount of cash without penalty and carry a limited risk of change in value because of interest rate movements.

GSAM Stable Value, LLC (GSAM SV) may charge an investment management fee on all or substantially all of the assets within a stable value fund. In addition to investment management fees, a stable value fund typically also incurs stable value contract fees as well as Plan level administrative fees and expenses such as custody, trustee, and recordkeeping fees. Additional fees and expenses associated with fixed income accounts or collective or commingled funds in which the stable value fund invests that are managed by GSAM SV or third-party managers may also be incurred and paid out of such accounts or funds.

An estimated annualized fee rate for the SMART Capital Preservation Fund's investment management fees to GSAM SV and third-party managers and stable value contract fees to contract providers as of March 31, 2018 is 0.354% as calculated by applying annual investment management fee rates or annual stable value contract fee rates to applicable book value or market value amounts as of March 31, 2018, and dividing the total amount of such fees by the total Fund book value as of such date. The Fund also incurs Plan level fees and expenses such as custody, trustee and recordkeeping fees, and fees and expenses other than investment management fees, of underlying investment products held in the Fund managed by GSAM SV or other third-party managers, in each case that are not included in the above estimate. The actual investment management fees and stable value contract fees incurred by the Fund are paid quarterly in arrears and are based on contractual fee calculation methodologies, and may differ from the above estimated fee rate.

Transfer Information: Direct transfers from any investment option offered under the Plan to the SMART Capital Preservation Fund are allowed. However, direct transfers from the SMART Capital Preservation Fund to the TD Ameritrade SDB Securities or to the TD Ameritrade SDB Money Market are not permitted. If a transfer is processed from the SMART Capital Preservation Fund to another core investment option offered under the Plan, no trades may be placed to either the TD Ameritrade SDB Securities or TD Ameritrade SDB Money Market for 90 days.

The strategy may include the use of derivatives. Derivatives often involve a high degree of financial risk because a relatively small movement in the price of the underlying security or benchmark may result in a disproportionately large movement in the price of the derivative and are not suitable for all investors.
